The "Wild Geese" Simulation Sport Shooting Club memberships pay for the access to the 2,500sqft indoor simulation range on Club Nights which will be held twice weekly Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 5pm to 9:00pm. The simulation range allows for up to 6 people to shoot statically and dynamically at any given time. Please note: A minimum of one simulation range safety officer will be present at all times during simulation range and simulation firearms usage. Members may also access the simulation range on all other evenings and weekends but must wait in line with other non-members to use the simulation range. There will be no access to members or non-members during pre-booked group events that may take place from time to time during weekday evenings with the exception of Tuesdays and Thursdays when the simulation range is reserved for annual members only. Membership includes full access to ISTC's Dogs of War Lounge and snack area. Memberships are all 12 months in duration and can be purchased at any time of the year.

Members cannot bring their own firearms to the simulation range however all annual club members will have unlimited access to a number of simulation SIRT "Red Guns", airsoft guns equipped with lasers, and CO2 recoil simulation kits for the following: 9mm versions of the Glock 17, HK USP, Smith & Wesson MP9, Sig Sauer 226, Sig Sauer 320 and CZ 75. Several 5.56mm AR-15s/M4 carbines. R870 shotgun. Non-recoil airsoft simulation replica of the M249/C9 SAW. These will be the only simulation firearms used on the "simulation" range. Special conditions may apply.
